DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on February 28, 2005 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of 6,649,262 B2 has been reviewed and is NOT accepted.
2. An attorney or agent, not of record, is not authorized to sign a terminal disclaimer in the capacity as an attorney or agent acting in a representative capacity as provided by 37 CFR 1.34 (a). See 37 CFR 1.321(b) and/or (c).
3. It would be acceptable for a person, other than a recognized officer, to sign a terminal disclaimer, provided the record for the application includes a statement that the person is empowered to sign terminal disclaimers and/or act on behalf of the organization.

Accordingly, a new terminal disclaimer which includes the above empowerment statement will be considered to be signed by an appropriate official of the assignee. A separately filed paper referencing the previously filed terminal disclaimer and containing a proper empowerment statement would also be acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lang et al, 6,429,261 B1 (Lang).

Lang teaches a method of winding a wet web comprising providing a web of material, applying a wetting solution to the web to produce a wet web, the wetting solution comprising a salt and at least one preservative, and winding the wet web into a wet coreless roll, per claims 1, 6, 10, 12, and 21. See column 3, line 44, column 24, line 25, and Examples 10 and 25. In addition, Lang teaches that the salt is an inorganic salt such as sodium chloride, per claims 11-12 and 16-17, and the preservative is of the type contemplated by applicants in claims 18 and 19, further teaching the presence of a water dispersible binder, per claim 20. See Table 3. Regarding the variability of the salt and preservative throughout the wet roll, it is the position of the examiner that the method taught by the prior art is the same as that contemplated by applicants. Therefore, the examiner has reason to believe that the variability of the salt and preservative throughout the wet roll of the prior art is within the ranges contemplated by applicants in the claims. In addition, the claims only require the method step of "applying a wetting solution to the web to produce a wet web" with no specifics as to how the wetting solution is applied. The prior art teaches that the web can be spray coated. The skilled artisan would immediately envisage a constant or steady state process having little to no variances. Accordingly, the skilled artisan would immediately envisage that the variability of the wetting solution and components incorporated therein would be within the instant claimed ranges.

Therefore, the prior art teachings of Lang anticipate the invention as claimed in present claims 1-21.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-4 and 6-11 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 21 of U.S. Patent No. 6,649,262 B2.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the language of "comprising a salt" in the present claims includes any amount of salt, such as the "at least about 5%" of the patented claims. As to claims 6-11, salts are preservatives.

Art Unit: 1774

5. Claims 1, 6, and 12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 18 and 39 of copending Application No. 09/900,746. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the present invention embrace those of the copending invention.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

No claims are allowed.
